tion on the grounds that "in striving to correct an evil said to exist in one part of the country a vital injury may be done to the great mass of banking institutions and the community at large." The letter to the Judiciary Committee in "The act will affect many of our strongest boards of directors and many other institutions, probably destroying them. Many of the men on those boards are connected with various trust companies and other important interests not in competition, but on the contrary most helpful in upholding the general welfare of the banking community. A compul-sory choice between the directorates in the various institutions will result in favor of the trust companies and overthrow the management of many of the member banks of the Federal reserve

One of the hard problems confronting bankers to-day is the selection of new directors for their banks, men who have the training, the influence and the analytical equipment to insure the safe ex-mension of credit and the proper care "The State banks are making rapid and in prestige. They are not overzeal-ous in their efforts to adopt the Federal reserve plan. It behoves Congress therefore, as well as all real friends of the Federal reserve system, to move in a manner calculated to attract to that system the strong bankers and the strong business men of the country rather than repel them and by legislating drive in out of the managements in which they are needed."

EGGS.—Storage packed eygs were eliminated from quotations yesterday. This forced the new grade of extras and extra firsts with 22c, for the outside. Trading was good yesterday and some receivers who had accumulated eggs cleaned up, especially all their high grade stock. There were some foreign eggs on the market of high grade, but not enough to affect current receipts. For the time of year the prices are remarkably high. Dirites are firmer than they were at the close of the week, some sales being made as high as 18½c. Prices follow: Fresh gathered extras, 22½ $23½c; extra firsts, 12627c; firsts, 19¼ $620½c; dirtles No. 1, 17½ $618c; No. 2, 15$617c; Pennselvania and nearby hennery whites, large, fancy, 32½ $624½c; hennery browns, 22½ $6134c; brown and mixed colors, 19¼ $622c; Haltimore duck, 20$623c; Western, 19$62c.

LIVE POULTRY—On account of the Jewish holiday yesterday the movement was moderate. Four cars of fowls were reported sold at 15c, and holders want a fraction more on heavy. Some old roosters sold at $60. and an operators. These cars sold at auction, but no quotations were established.
